RE: [School Counselor]

May 22, 2018

To Whom it May Concern,

It is with great interest I am writing in regard to the School Counselor position. As my resume indicates, I possess more than seven years of trained experience working with people. I am an energetic hard worker, who is highly motivated to learn. I have a passion for working with individuals, creating an environment where they can grow and learn.

I believe my responsibilities from my previous positions and my educational experience would make me a great candidate for this position. My school counseling internships gave me the opportunity to work with students of all ages and backgrounds, teaching me how to ensure the academic success of all students. Working as a paraprofessional, I gained further insight into the needs of students with Autism. As an accounts receivable representative I have further developed my attention to detail, my problem solving strategies and my understanding of individual's needs. As a teacher's assistant and camp counselor, my responsibilities included working as a team member, implementing educational lessons, and managing all the children's needs. My supervisors have always relied on my ability to communicate efficiently, be flexible in a consistently changing environment and my ability to become a leader when needed.

Sincerely,
