To whom it may concern:

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation for Julianne Remus. I worked with Julianne for 3 years at League School and Day Treatment Center, where we were both employed as speech-language pathologists. Her responsibilities included providing individual and group therapy to students ages 5-21 in a day treatment setting, conducting speech-language assessments, and participating in an intake team. Through first hand observation and experience, I can say that Julianne is a high-caliber speech-language pathologist and I hold her in the highest esteem.

Julianne regularly collaborated with her colleagues as a part of an interdisciplinary team. She discussed each students' progress and areas of need with social workers, psychologists, occupational therapists, and special education teachers in order to provide individualized services. Within our speech-language department, Julianne regularly presented academic articles, discussed evidenced-based concepts and collaborated in clinical problem solving. When I encountered a difficult clinical situation, I knew that I could rely on Julianne's creative thinking to help me come up with alternative, evidence-based strategies and methods.

Through her work at League School and Day Treatment Center, Julianne gained a robust understanding of behavioral management. She was able to generate and implement a variety of behavioral systems and social-emotional strategies for students with emotional and behavioral disorders. In a setting where student performance and behavior was often inconsistent, Julianne individualized each of her therapy sessions to promote student engagement and motivation while demonstrating flexibility through planning for changes that might occur.

I enthusiastically give Julianne my highest recommendation without any reservations. She is intelligent, responsible, and a critical thinker who would make an excellent addition to your team. Please don't hesitate to contact me if I can be of further assistance. I can be reached at (914) 224-7271 or at lgroth@ossiningufsd.org.
