Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to apply for a summer camp leader position. I would like to highlight my experiences as a school district teacher and previously as a resident advisor during college. In those roles, I made sure to regularly check in with people, hear them out, and follow up on their wants or needs, practices which seem useful for this position. In addition, I have some experiences in engineering and research I can draw on to develop related activities or to simply share with campers.

Respectfully yours,

Yuyi
