CORA SERVICES 2019 COMMUNITY REPORT

From our Board of Directors

Thanks very much for all you have done to support CORA Services throughout 2019!

I have been a proud member of CORA's Board of Directors since 2013 and I can say with certainty that this agency prides itself on connecting the dots for families with care and compassion. In my opinion, what makes CORA especially unique is our holistic approach and diversity of quality professional services.

While Children ARE the Heart of the Matter at CORA, each child's needs are assessed and addressed within the context of their family or support system. Mission-driven counselors, educators, psychologists and therapists of many types, work collaboratively to embrace our client families, providing excellent well-rounded resolutions to complicated situations. I have experienced firsthand the excellent services CORA provides and trust their staff immensely with my own children.

At every stage of life, CORA offers supports that help to remove obstacles and allow for development and productivity. From parenting classes and early childhood education, to academic support and counseling, to behavioral assessment, case management, mental health treatment, and much more — CORA aims to help families survive and thrive regardless of the challenges they are facing.

Consider taking the next step in your involvement with CORA — An agency dedicated to helping children and families experience success at every angle.

Sincerely,
Dr. Michael Clark

PARENTING

CORA's Lifeline Program, started by Sister Nora Dennehy, has evolved to do much more than provide support to young mothers to be. In addition to offering help to pregnant and parenting adolescent and young adult mothers and fathers, Lifeline now offers many different educational opportunities for parents, families and the community.

87 group sessions were provided in 2019 to middle school and high school youth as well as adults on many topics including:

- ▶ Safe Dates — An anti-violence teen dating program
- ▶ The Nurturing Parenting Curriculum
- ▶ Teen Life Skills
- ▶ Fetal Alcohol Syndrome

EARLY INTERVENTION

CORA provides Early Intervention services for preschoolers experiencing delays reaching appropriate developmental milestones. In collaboration with Elwyn's Early Learning Services program, CORA delivers services to children with Individualized Education Program (IEP) which are designed to provide quality early learning experiences for children ages 3-5.

12 Early Intervention therapists helped 300 children with more than 450 services in special instruction, speech and language therapy, and occupational therapy, in 25 Early Childhood Education Centers across the city of Philadelphia. During the summer, CORA's Early Intervention Team hosted over 30 children per week for thematic therapy workshops. CORA also opened its doors to build a stronger partnership with Elwyn by creating work space for its Early Intervention team in our administrative building at 8540 Verree Road.

LITERACY HAPPENS

In 2019, CORA offered two 6-week long Early Literacy Workshops for children ages 1-5. Hosted by Eric J. Smith, MA, CCC-SLP/L, and his team, families participated in workshops designed to help parents and other caregivers help their youngsters learn and love to read. Each session featured a lesson about how families can use literacy activities to support their child's development by incorporating literacy into everyday routines in meaningful ways.

YESTERDAY

- ▲ In 1983, CORA opened its flagship quality Early Childhood Education Center, Early Years Fox Chase, serving children 2 1/2-5.

More than 3,500 children started their lifelong journey of learning in one of CORA's Early Years programs!

TODAY

- ▲ CORA currently owns and operates two Early Years Programs, the original one in Northeast Philadelphia, and one on the campus of La Salle University. Both locations are Keystone STAR 4 sites with full and part time opportunities as well as before and after care. Early Years La Salle offers free spots for qualifying families through Pre-K Counts!

TOMORROW

- ▲ In 2020, CORA Services will open its 3rd and largest Early Childhood Program. Early Years Huntingdon Mills, located at 2137 East Huntingdon Street, will serve children ages 2-5 and will eventually be equipped to serve children on the autism spectrum in a unique classroom inclusion model.

FAMILY ADVOCATE

CORA's Clinical team provides a therapeutic environment where clients can explore and address a variety of mental health, behavioral health, and family-related issues. School aged children ages 5-18 and their parents receive support, encouragement, and guidance by skilled clinicians.

CORA provides related services to Charter Schools in PA and NJ, employing 12 Occupational Therapists, 26 Speech Therapists, 1 Physical Therapist and 15 Psychologists.

TRUANCY INTERVENTION AND PREVENTION SERVICES (TIPS)

CORA's TIPS team collaborates with Philadelphia's Department of Human Services, School District, Family Court, and the Police Department to increase school attendance and reduce truancy.

Since PA's amendment of The Truancy Law, Cora has implemented a comprehensive approach to identify and address attendance issues as early with credible intervention techniques.

staff

▲ In 1975, when CORA first began serving non-public school students, they had to come to us. Sr. Charity was determined to serve students where they were, so she put trailers in the parking lots of 45 Archdiocesan schools.

▲ Today in our School Services Department, CORA Provides the Philadelphia Archdiocesan and other private grade schools and high schools with: 27 Counselors, 35 Educators, 13 Psychologists and 15 Speech Therapists.

▲ “Grow With Us” is the theme of The CORA Training Center, which was established in response to staff requests for advanced training on how to best support today’s students, as the environments in which they are learning and growing continue to evolve. 685 attendees participated in CORA professional development sessions in the 2018–2019 school year.

The Middle School Years

2018-2019 SCHOOL YEAR SAP PROGRAM:

CORA's SAP Assessment services are available to students in grades K-12 in select schools throughout Philadelphia. CORA works with Philadelphia public, charter, and non-public schools across 31 zip codes and received over 1,400 referrals during the 2018-2019 school year.

SAP-STUDENT ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

CORA's SAP Program began in 1989 and included behavioral health assessments, consultation and referral assistance for students experiencing obstacles or barriers to learning. SAP services expanded in the 2018-2019 school year to include case management support which further assists students and families with accessing recommended services. Case Managers also assisted students/families with benefits assistance and accessing community resources.

This year YouthCOR provided after school and summer programming in the following areas: 19114, 19116, 19115, 19132, 19149, 19111, 19124

From Camp CORA to YouthCOR

YESTERDAY

- ▲ In the 80's and 90's, CORA ran a large summer camp on 3 acres of land with many outdoor activities including archery and swimming. In the summer of 2018, there was a CAMP CORA Reunion where former campers and counselors shared stories about the old camp days and that pesky groundhog!

- ▲ YouthCOR, our DHS funded summer programming is offered at a variety of partner school sites. 21st Century Community Learning Center and United Way Impact funding has enabled enhanced services at some sites such as family engagement activities and increased STEAM capabilities, helping keep students school ready all summer long.

TODAY

- ▲ CORA's commitment to serving children with mercy and zeal has not changed, but our out-of-school-time options have evolved and spread out to meet families where they are. Our recent additions include — St. Martin de Porres and J.H. Brown Elementary Schools.

- ▲ Our programs are growing and WE'RE HIRING! Do you know anyone interested in working with children after school? Visit coraservices.org and click on careers to see all available positions!

Promote your business and support 7th and 8th graders!

CORA's Career Development Resource Center engages nearly 3,500 students each school year. CDRC staff help students critically evaluate how their interests and skills connect to a career path. Students enjoy hands-on work experiences at self-guided workstations — some virtual and some functioning career-related activity stations.

OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY

Occupational Therapist, Laura Pietropola, along with Temple OT students, provided bi-monthly pet therapy services to students in the Multiple Disabilities Support classrooms and Life Skills classrooms at Simon Gratz Mastery Charter High School. The pet therapy program provided opportunities for students to engage in positive social interactions, demonstrate appropriate self-regulation abilities, and promote social-emotional learning. These skills were tracked through data analysis to provide therapists with concrete evidence of each student's progression.

The High School Years

INTENSIVE PREVENTION SERVICES (IPS)

IPS is an early intervention program for youth ages 10 to 17 years old who exhibit at-risk behaviors. CORA takes a comprehensive approach, offering individual, group and family counseling complemented by group activities and case management. During the summer months, CORA hosted weekly enrichment activities to keep youth active.

PAYING IT FORWARD

Mariame Sissoko, a senior at Central High School, started a student organization called Stressed Out Students to initiate an ongoing conversation with her peers about teens and mental health. Mariame and her classmates, lead by teacher and advisor, Traci Albuck, sold exam week care packages and donated the money to CORA.

Left: The Peer Helper Award was established to reward exceptional 8th-grade students for their participation in CORA's Peer Helper Program, which fosters leadership and enables students to mentor younger children and serve as positive role models. During her 2019 graduation ceremony from St. Christopher's School, Paige Thompson was awarded this honor and $1,000 toward her Villa Joseph Marie tuition.

Monthly donations make a huge impact!

CORA is addressing substance use and abuse with children, adolescents and adults, through education, early intervention, counseling, treatment and recovery supports. Your monthly gift could cover the cost of a counseling session for a teen or a family member struggling to support them.

YESTERDAY

- ▲ In the late 90's and early 2000's, CORA's Neumann center was a community center in the Frankford section of Philadelphia that helped adolescents attain their GED while receiving drug and alcohol treatment and teen/young adult parenting supports.

- ▲ In late 2019, Governor Tom Wolf and presidential hopeful Michael Bloomberg visited CORA's partner, The Bridge Way School, PA's first Recovery High School, to discuss the importance of substance abuse treatment programs for adolescents. To support high school students suffering from addiction, CORA offers support groups, case management and life skills. In the summer of 2018, CORA and The Bridge Way launched an Alternative Peer Group providing support and sober activities for teens.

TODAY

- ▲ CORA is investigating the formulation of a Family Navigation System within our agency: a call-in, walk-in and online concierge service, where any family can obtain an assessment for their child and be referred to appropriate care. With CORA's signature care and compassion, we hope to better assist families as they navigate systems supporting a child's educational, behavioral health or mental health needs.
